POWER: HOW TO GET IT, USE IT, AND KEEP IT

Speaker: Jeffrey Pfeffer, Thomas D. Dee II Professor of Organizational Behavior, Stanford University Graduate School of Business

In his new book, Power: Why Some People Have It—and Others Don't, Jeffrey provides a ground-breaking guide for flourishing in an increasingly competitive workplace. He has taught at Stanford University since 1979. He is the author or co-author of thirteen books, and has also held visiting professorships at the Harvard Business School, London Business School, IESE Business School in Spain, and other institutions. Building on the latest social science research and drawing from decades of consulting with corporations and teaching MBA students, Jeffrey will share his insights on how participants can successfully build, maintain, and employ power in their organizations. Participants can look forward to a candid and realistic examination of human behavior and the implications for individual success.

LEGACY DINNER | BAUER HOUSE

Introduction & Background: Catherine Lamboley, General Counsel, Shell Oil Co. (ret.)
Speaker: Linda Strite Murnane, Colonel, USAF, Ret. and Chief, Court Management and Support Services International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia

As a group of leading women in law, Summit participants are uniquely positioned to make a difference in the profession through the legacy that they are creating for future generations. This special evening, set in the official home of the Chancellor of The University of Texas System, will feature a unique presentation on the importance of legacy and what it means for women in the profession. After a day of working together to develop solutions to move more women into positions of power, participants will have the opportunity to reflect on their legacies and connect with peers while enjoying three acres of manicured grounds, inviting gardens, towering native Texas trees and a traditional Georgian/Federal style home.

1:30 - 5:00 pm

THE AUSTIN MANIFESTO: LEVERAGING OUR POWER

At the 2009 Women's Power Summit on Law & Leadership, the country's leading female lawyers exchanged ideas and field-tested solutions, culminating in the drafting of the Austin Manifesto which calls for specific, concrete steps to tackle the persistent obstacles facing women in the profession today. On May 1, 2009, participants adopted by acclamation the Austin Manifesto, signaling the beginning of a coordinated national movement towards the advancement of women. A panel of distinguished leaders will kick off this session by illustrating how they are exercising their power on behalf of women to fulfill The Austin Manifesto. Participants will then work together in small groups to identify ways that they can exercise their individual power to move more women into the highest ranks of the profession.

Speaker: Diane C. Yu, Chief of Staff and Deputy to the President, New York University

Moderator: Roberta D. Liebenberg, Summit Chair
