

JEANA LUNGWITZ

University of Texas School of Law Domestic Violence Clinic
727 East Dean Keeton
Austin, Texas 78705
512/232-1358
jlungwitz@mail.law.utexas.edu

LICENSED to practice law in the State of Texas, 1989

EDUCATION

B.A. in Political Science, Baylor University, 1985

J.D., Texas Tech University, 1989

PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES AND AWARDS

Appointed by the Texas Supreme Court to the Supreme Court Protective Order Taskforce, September 9, 2003

Speaker at various CLE and non-CLE activities across the state on the topic of legal options for victims of domestic violence, and other family law issues

Texas Law Fellows Excellence in Public Interest Award – 1996

Travis County Women Lawyers' Association Public Interest Law Award - 1999

Travis County Women Lawyer's Association – Board of Directors - 2000 - 2003

PUBLICATIONS

2005 – co-author with Charles Childress, “Family Violence Case Law Update April 2005” Paper prepared for a judicial training sponsored by the Texas Center for the Judiciary in Galveston, Texas on April 6, 2005

2004 - co-author with Amy C. Wright, “Protective Orders: Taking it to the next level” Paper prepared for and co-presented at a seminar entitled “Family Law on the Front Lines,” sponsored by the University of Texas School of Law in Galveston, Texas on June 17, 2004

2003 – “Texas Laws Affecting Victims of Domestic Violence,” Paper and Powerpoint prepared (really an edited version of the 2001 paper below) for and presented at the Criminal Justice System Response Trainings sponsored by the Texas Council on Family Violence in Bonham, Texas on March 26, 2003; Dallas, Texas on April 16, 2003; Bay City, Texas on July 23, 2003, and Beaumont, Texas on July 30, 2003.

2003 – “Do I Have To Get Between Mom and Dad?,” Paper and Powerpoint prepared for and presented at a continuing legal education seminar sponsored by the School Law Section of the State Bar of Texas in Galveston, Texas July 18, 2003

2002 – “Temporary Orders: How to Look Prepared Even If You Met Your Client Yesterday,” Paper prepared for and co-presented at a seminar entitled “Family Law on the Front Lines,” sponsored by the University of Texas School of Law in Galveston, Texas on April 11, 2002.

2001 – “Legal Options for Victims of Family Violence,” Paper prepared for and presented at a seminar entitled “Family Law on the Front Lines,” sponsored by the University of Texas School of Law in Galveston, Texas on April 27, 2001.

1996 - Co-authored with Judge Suzanne Covington, “Protective Orders and Domestic Violence”, State Bar of Texas Advanced Family Law Institute, Professional Development Program. This article won Honorable Mention as the 1997 Outstanding Law Journal Article, an award of the Texas Bar Foundation.

1994 - Co-authored and did the final editing of the “Pro Se Protective Order Packet” for the Women’s Advocacy Project, Inc.

1993 - “Nursing Home Administrator Hearing Opened to the Public,” October 1993 edition of the Alert, a monthly publication of the Texas Legal Services Center.

1993 - “Protective Orders: The Basics”, April 1993 edition of the Alert, a monthly publication of the Texas Legal Service Center.

EXPERIENCE

Lungwitz & Lungwitz, P.C., Austin, Texas – Shareholder, January 2007 – present.

Domestic Violence Clinic, University of Texas Law School, Austin, Texas – Clinical Professor/Director, 2001 – present, Co-director, 1997 – 2001.

Wright & Lungwitz, P.C. Austin, Texas – Shareholder, 1996 – 1998.

Women’s Advocacy Project, Inc., Austin, Texas - Legal Services Director, 1993 – 1996, Staff Attorney, 1991-1993.

Legal Hotline for Older Texans, Austin, Texas - Co-managing Attorney, 1993 – 1994, Staff Attorney, 1991-1993.

Staff Attorney/Account Representative, West Services, Inc., Dallas, Texas, 1989-1990.