- 6. Determination of Award Fee: Contractor performance will be evaluated at the end of specified period to determine amount of award. (unilateral decision of the government), according to a performance evaluation plan. Contractor will be periodically informed of the quality of its performance and areas of expected improvements. Contractor will be promptly advised, in writing, of determinations and reasons why award fee was not earned. Contractor may submit a performance self-evaluation for each evaluation period. Amount of award is at sole discretion of the government but any self-evaluation received within 30 days after the end of the current evaluation period will be given such consideration as may be deemed by the government. The government may specify that a fee not earned during a given evaluation period may be accumulated and available for allocation to one or more subsequent periods. In that event, the distribution of award fee shall be adjusted to reflect such allocations.
- 7. Distribution of Award Fee: Total amount is to be determined. Payment of the base fee and award fee shall be made provided that after payment of 85% of the base fee and potential award fee, the government may withhold further payment of the base fee and award fee until a reserve is set aside in an amount that the government considers necessary to protect its interest. This reserve shall not exceed 15% of the total base fee and potential award fee or $100,000 whichever is less. In the event of contract termination, either in whole or part, the amount of award fee available shall represent a pro rata distribution associated with evaluation period activities or events as determined by the Govt. The Govt. will promptly make payment of any award fee upon the submission by the contractor to the CO's authorized representative, of a public voucher or invoice in the amount of the total fee earned for the period evaluated. Payment may be made without using a contract modification.
