I am uncomfortable for your sake in taking this on. Do find out what Elliott thinks.

Subject: Amnesty International Panel

With reference to your attached written question, the panel proposed by Amnesty International of Maryland is not balanced, although less unbalanced than most on the subject of Chile. It should be very lively, especially if I have an opportunity to quote from the attached letter of Ricardo Nunez. I have done a great deal of public speaking and find it very useful. But of course one never knows how any individual session will turn out. I have not yet accepted this invitation, and will not if you and/or Elliott vote against.

Dear Mr. Lister:

As we discussed on the telephone, I would like to provide you with information regarding the forum scheduled for November 3. Amnesty International of Maryland, a campus group affiliated with Amnesty International USA, is hosting a panel discussion on human rights in Chile. The panel will include: Victoria DeNegri, Chilean human rights activist, Jonathan Fine, of the Physicians for Human Rights, and Jefferey Jackson, Institute for Policy Studies. We have adhered to AI guidelines regarding impartiality in extending our invitations and composing the panel.

Each of the four panel members will be allotted eight minutes in which to make a presentation. Following the presentations, a question and answer session will take place.

We will be in touch regarding the exact location of the event, and your transportation to and from the event. Please do not hesitate to call me at 445-4808 should you require additional information.

Sincerely yours,

Paul Koloc
