

Petition to Enroll in Graduate Course or Undergraduate Language Course for Credit Toward J.D. Degree

Effective Fall 2004 Law students not enrolled in an approved joint or combined degree program may apply a maximum of 12 credit hours of non-law courses taken at the University of Texas to the 86 credit hours required for a J.D. degree. Courses taken for credit towards the J.D. degree must be related to a course of study offered in the School of Law and must be either graduate level courses or undergraduate language courses. Law students taking graduate level courses will be permitted to apply the actual credits earned toward their J.D. degree, until they reach the 12 credit non-law course maximum. Law students taking undergraduate language courses will be permitted to apply one credit hour per two and a half credit hours earned toward their J.D. degree, until they reach the 12 credit non-law course maximum. Even though the grade will transfer only as credit/no credit, the graduate level course cannot be taken on a Pass/Fail basis. See rules at <https://law.utexas.edu/student-affairs/academic-services/take-courses-in-other-departments/> for further information.
