I believe in this program! Not only is it my privilege to direct the program, I am also proud to be a graduate (LL.M. ’07). This program opened a world of opportunities for me, and I am committed to doing the same for our students.

Let me tell you why I believe that Texas Law’s LL.M. program is such a wonderful place to take the next step toward achieving your dreams. First of all, Texas Law is one of the most highly ranked law schools in the United States (#14 in the US) while having one of the lowest tuitions for the value (#1 most affordable LL.M. program in a top 14 law school).

The law school is housed on and part of the greater University of Texas at Austin Campus. Law students are able to be a part of this diverse and international community and all that has to offer—famous thinkers, artists and cultural programming, and NCAA sports. Students love living in Austin, one of the most rapidly growing cities in America for good reason. Austin is the live music capital of the world, has a rapidly expanding tech industry, and is a food-lover’s paradise. (For fun facts about Austin that students are surprised about is how naturally beautiful Austin and its surroundings are. We are surrounded by rolling green hills, blue lakes, rivers, and natural springs. All sorts of gorgeous outdoor adventures await those who like to be outside—hiking, swimming in a clear blue watering hole, or simply listening to some live music outside on one of many warm sunny days. We are a few hours north of the ocean, and a pleasant drive west to hiking in mountains sprouting up from the desert.

Not only do we offer a highly renowned program in a cool city, we care deeply about the happiness and successfulness of our students. The Graduate and International Programs team is committed to helping our students design a program that is made with the person in mind. We also know that many students will take advantage of the new Texas rules making it possible for some foreign LL.M. students to take the Texas Bar Exam. We have extensive programming designed to help our students pass the Texas bar exam or the bar of their choice. We ensure that our LL.M. students have one of the most exciting, successful years of their lives by making sure that our students are well-supported and have had many opportunities facilitated by our team; which endeavors to help our students experience all that Austin has to offer. We would love to welcome you “home”!

Yours sincerely,

Lauren Fielder, LL.M., J.D.
Dean of Graduate and International Programs
MESSAGE FROM THE ASSISTANT DEAN FOR GRADUATE & INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS

I believe in this program! Not only is it my privilege to direct the program, I am also proud to be a graduate (LL.M. ’07). This program opened a world of opportunities for me, and I am committed to doing the same for our students.

Let me tell you why I believe that Texas Law’s LL.M. program is such a wonderful place to take the next step toward achieving your dreams. Texas Law is one of the most highly ranked law schools in the United States, while having one of the lowest tuition fees in the value it offers an LL.M. program in a top-ranked law school.

The law school is based on and part of the greater University of Texas at Austin. Campus, Law students are able to be a part of this diverse and international community and all that has to offer—famous thinkers, artists, and cultural programming, and NCAA sports. Students love living in Austin, one of the most rapidly growing cities in America for good reasons. Austin is the free music capital of the world, has a rapidly expanding tech industry, and is a food-lover’s paradise. One feature about Austin that students are surprised about is how naturally beautiful Austin and its surroundings are. We are surrounded by rolling, green hills, rivers, and natural springs. All sorts of gorgeous outdoor activities await those that like to be outside—hiking, jogging, swimming in a clear blue watering hole, or simply listening to some live music outside on one of many warm sunny days.

Not only do we offer a highly renowned program in a cool city, we care deeply about the happiness and success of our students. The Graduate & International Programs team is committed to helping our students design a program that is made with the person in mind. We also know that many students will take advantage of the new Texas rules making it possible for some foreign LL.M. students to take the Texas Bar Exam. We have extensive programs designed to help our students pass the Texas Bar Exam or the bar of their choice. We ensure that our LL.M. students have one of the most exciting, successful years of their lives by making sure that our students are well-supported and have had many opportunities facilitated by our team, which endures to help our students experience all that Austin has to offer. We would love to welcome you “home!”

Yours sincerely,

Lauren Fielder
Professor Lauren Fielder, J.D., LL.M. (’07)
Assistant Dean for Graduate & International Programs
lfielder@law.utexas.edu
Global Energy, International Arbitration & Environmental Law

To address today’s energy challenges, the School of Law has created the LLM Concentration in Global Energy, International Arbitration & Environmental Law to catalyze the interdisciplinary study of energy, including the structure of the energy industry, transactions, dispute resolution, and environmental science and sustainability. We offer a number of innovative courses designed to prepare students to succeed in the energy sector. Our mission is to focus on the next generation of energy leaders in Texas, the United States, and the world.

Human Rights & Comparative Constitutional Law Concentration

The Human Rights & Comparative Constitutional Law Concentration provides students with a comparative, critical, and cross-disciplinary understanding and appreciation of human rights and the political and social contexts of human rights. Students can focus on regions or vast issues, such as constitutional law and comparative law in economic, political, and social contexts. Faculty members are unparalleled in their breadth and depth of their engagement and achievements. Our top-notch offerings include human rights, international arbitration, and public international law. Students in this concentration often choose to pursue a Certificate in Latin American Studies through the University’s Teresa Lozano Long Institute for Latin American Studies (LLILAS).

Cybersecurity Law Concentration

The cybersecurity law concentration focuses on technical concepts and the legal, policy, and social contexts of cybersecurity. It offers students a sophisticated understanding of the legal, policy, and social contexts of cybersecurity. Students take classes with some of the nation’s leading experts, and a foundation for professional practice. LL.M. students take classes with some of the nation’s leading experts and are prepared to analyze legal questions and advocate on their client’s behalf. They also develop skills to make them more effective global practitioners.

Business Law Concentration

The business law concentration offers rigorous academic and professional training in support of the legal regulation of U.S. commercial activity as a whole. Students completing the program will have breadth, expertise, and the credentials for professional practice. LL.M. students take classes with some of the nation’s leading experts and are prepared to analyze legal questions and advocate on their client’s behalf. They also develop skills to make them more effective global practitioners.

U.S. Law for Foreign Lawyers

The U.S. Law for Foreign Lawyers Concentration is designed to prepare foreign lawyers for global practice. This program, students are fully integrated into Texas Law’s J.D. classes, where they sit side-by-side with American students being taught in the tradition of U.S. legal education. This concentration is a flexible program that provides students with a broad legal education that will allow them to focus on a particular area of study or gain a broad foundation in U.S. law by taking courses in a variety of areas. Students take both foundational and advanced courses and have U.S. lawyers to analyze legal questions and advocate on their clients’ behalf. They also develop skills to make them more effective global practitioners.

Latin American Concentration

The Latin American Concentration is one of the broadest and diverse programs on campus. It offers a thoroughly immersive experience in legal education, including the structure of the Latin American justice system, transactions, dispute resolution, and environmental law. Students can focus on regions or vast issues, such as constitutional law and comparative law in economic, political, and social contexts. Faculty members are unparalleled in their breadth and depth of their engagement and achievements. Our top-notch offerings include human rights, international arbitration, and public international law. Students in this concentration often choose to pursue a Certificate in Latin American Studies through the University’s Teresa Lozano Long Institute for Latin American Studies (LLILAS).

Business Law Concentration

The business law concentration offers rigorous academic and professional training in support of the legal regulation of U.S. commercial activity as a whole. Students completing the program will have breadth, expertise, and the credentials for professional practice. LL.M. students take classes with some of the nation’s leading experts and are prepared to analyze legal questions and advocate on their client’s behalf. They also develop skills to make them more effective global practitioners.

U.S. Law for Foreign Lawyers

The U.S. Law for Foreign Lawyers Concentration is designed to prepare foreign lawyers for global practice. This program, students are fully integrated into Texas Law’s J.D. classes, where they sit side-by-side with American students being taught in the tradition of U.S. legal education. This concentration is a flexible program that provides students with a broad legal education that will allow them to focus on a particular area of study or gain a broad foundation in U.S. law by taking courses in a variety of areas. Students take both foundational and advanced courses and have U.S. lawyers to analyze legal questions and advocate on their clients’ behalf. They also develop skills to make them more effective global practitioners.

Latin American Concentration

The Latin American Concentration is one of the broadest and diverse programs on campus. It offers a thoroughly immersive experience in legal education, including the structure of the Latin American justice system, transactions, dispute resolution, and environmental law. Students can focus on regions or vast issues, such as constitutional law and comparative law in economic, political, and social contexts. Faculty members are unparalleled in their breadth and depth of their engagement and achievements. Our top-notch offerings include human rights, international arbitration, and public international law. Students in this concentration often choose to pursue a Certificate in Latin American Studies through the University’s Teresa Lozano Long Institute for Latin American Studies (LLILAS).

Business Law Concentration

The business law concentration offers rigorous academic and professional training in support of the legal regulation of U.S. commercial activity as a whole. Students completing the program will have breadth, expertise, and the credentials for professional practice. LL.M. students take classes with some of the nation’s leading experts and are prepared to analyze legal questions and advocate on their client’s behalf. They also develop skills to make them more effective global practitioners.

U.S. Law for Foreign Lawyers

The U.S. Law for Foreign Lawyers Concentration is designed to prepare foreign lawyers for global practice. This program, students are fully integrated into Texas Law’s J.D. classes, where they sit side-by-side with American students being taught in the tradition of U.S. legal education. This concentration is a flexible program that provides students with a broad legal education that will allow them to focus on a particular area of study or gain a broad foundation in U.S. law by taking courses in a variety of areas. Students take both foundational and advanced courses and have U.S. lawyers to analyze legal questions and advocate on their clients’ behalf. They also develop skills to make them more effective global practitioners.

Latin American Concentration

The Latin American Concentration is one of the broadest and diverse programs on campus. It offers a thoroughly immersive experience in legal education, including the structure of the Latin American justice system, transactions, dispute resolution, and environmental law. Students can focus on regions or vast issues, such as constitutional law and comparative law in economic, political, and social contexts. Faculty members are unparalleled in their breadth and depth of their engagement and achievements. Our top-notch offerings include human rights, international arbitration, and public international law. Students in this concentration often choose to pursue a Certificate in Latin American Studies through the University’s Teresa Lozano Long Institute for Latin American Studies (LLILAS).

Business Law Concentration

The business law concentration offers rigorous academic and professional training in support of the legal regulation of U.S. commercial activity as a whole. Students completing the program will have breadth, expertise, and the credentials for professional practice. LL.M. students take classes with some of the nation’s leading experts and are prepared to analyze legal questions and advocate on their client’s behalf. They also develop skills to make them more effective global practitioners.

U.S. Law for Foreign Lawyers

The U.S. Law for Foreign Lawyers Concentration is designed to prepare foreign lawyers for global practice. This program, students are fully integrated into Texas Law’s J.D. classes, where they sit side-by-side with American students being taught in the tradition of U.S. legal education. This concentration is a flexible program that provides students with a broad legal education that will allow them to focus on a particular area of study or gain a broad foundation in U.S. law by taking courses in a variety of areas. Students take both foundational and advanced courses and have U.S. lawyers to analyze legal questions and advocate on their clients’ behalf. They also develop skills to make them more effective global practitioners.
Global Energy, International Arbitration, and Environmental Law

This concentration, in cooperation with the University’s groundbreaking Kay Bailey Hutchison Center for Energy, Law, and Business, offers students a comprehensive understanding of contemporary energy issues. Students learn about the legal, technological, and policy questions facing the energy sector and are introduced to the latest developments in energy policy, law, and economics. This concentration is in cooperation with the University’s Center for American and International Law (CIAL) and the University of Texas School of Law (UTSOL). UTSOL’s premier center for the study of Latin American and Caribbean law, CIAL is an interdisciplinary institute with a strong foundation in U.S. law by taking courses in all three areas. Students also may incorporate interdisciplinary study by completing courses in all three areas. Students also may incorporate interdisciplinary study by completing courses in all three areas.

Business Law

The Business Law Concentration provides U.S. LL.M. students with a strong foundation in the breadth and depth of legal issues facing business organizations today. The concentration encourages students to take both basic and advanced courses in order to gain a broad understanding of the legal issues that arise in a variety of business contexts. The concentration offers interdisciplinary courses that focus on specific areas of business law, such as international business law, corporate and securities law, and intellectual property law. Students may choose to focus on one area or take courses in all three areas, allowing them to tailor their course of study to their academic and professional interests.

Latin American and International Law

The Latin American and International Law Concentration provides U.S. LL.M. students with a comprehensive understanding of Latin American and international law. The concentration offers interdisciplinary courses that focus on specific areas of Latin American and international law, such as human rights and constitutional law. Students may choose to focus on one area or take courses in all three areas, allowing them to tailor their course of study to their academic and professional interests.

Human Rights and Comparative Constitutional Law

This concentration, in cooperation with the University’s Instituto de Estudios Americanos (IEA), offers students a comprehensive understanding of contemporary human rights practices, including the legal, political, and social perspectives that shape them. The concentration provides students with a broad understanding of the legal, political, and social perspectives that shape human rights practices. U.S. LL.M. students may choose to focus on one area or take courses in all three areas, allowing them to tailor their course of study to their academic and professional interests.

Student Organizations

Student organizations at Texas Law run the gamut of academic and professional interests, from the Environmental Law Society and Human Rights and Justice, to the Business Law Society and American Studies from LLILAS (in addition to an LL.M. program is offered). The student organization also organizes study breaks, plans events, and holds academic and professional events.

Austin is the best place to live in the United States, according to U.S. News & World Report, and as it has great outdoor activities, such as hiking and biking on the urban trails. From lively performances at the ZACH Theatre or Barton Springs for a quick dip in spectacular surroundings. From lively performances at the ACL Live Theatre or the Long Center for the Performing Arts, to the Lady Bird Lake trail, students have a wide range of options to choose from. Austin is home to many art galleries and museums, including the Blanton Museum of Art, the Heard Museum, and the Austin Art Museum. Austin is also known for its food scene, with more than 400 live music venues. Whether it’s Tex-Mex or fine dining, Austin does not disappoint. Whether it’s the ACL Live Music Festival, SXSW, or the Austin Film Festival, Austin is the perfect destination for students looking to explore the intersections between natural resources law, international law, and environmental law. This concentration provides students with a comprehensive understanding of the legal, political, and social perspectives that shape human rights practices. The U.S. Law Concentration is in cooperation with the University’s Center for American and International Law (CIAL) and the University of Texas School of Law (UTSOL). UTSOL’s premier center for the study of Latin American and Caribbean law, CIAL is an interdisciplinary institute with a strong foundation in Latin American and international law. The concentration offers interdisciplinary courses that focus on specific areas of Latin American and international law, such as human rights and constitutional law. Students may choose to focus on one area or take courses in all three areas, allowing them to tailor their course of study to their academic and professional interests.

The Concentration in Global Energy, International Arbitration, and Environmental Law is among the top 10 U.S.M. Programs for Energy Law.”

Texas Law has 16 clinics, 12 program centers, 11 journals, and 40 student organizations.

We offer extensive clinical education opportunities, with 16 clinics covering a range of legal issues. Texas Law is home to one of the nation’s leading centers and programs in energy law. The University of Texas School of Law is home to one of the nation’s leading centers and programs in energy law. The School’s Bernard and Audre Rapoport Center for Human Rights and Justice serves as a focal point at the University for critical, interdisciplinary analysis and study of human rights and social justice. Each student concentration is offered in cooperation with the Law School’s Bernard and Audre Rapoport Center for Human Rights and Justice, in cooperation with the University’s Teresa Lozano Long Institute of Latin American Studies from LLILAS. The Concentration in U.S. Law for Foreign Lawyers is a flexible program that provides students with a foreign law degree with the opportunity to focus on a particular area of study in one of the leading universities in the U.S. for taking courses in a variety of areas. Students take both basic and advanced courses in order to gain a broad understanding of the legal issues that arise in a variety of business contexts. This concentration offers interdisciplinary courses that focus on specific areas of business law, such as international business law, corporate and securities law, and intellectual property law. Students may choose to focus on one area or take courses in all three areas, allowing them to tailor their course of study to their academic and professional interests.

The Concentration in Latin American and International Law is a flexible program that provides students with a foreign law degree with the opportunity to focus on a particular area of study in one of the leading universities in the U.S. for taking courses in a variety of areas. Students take both basic and advanced courses in order to gain a broad understanding of the legal issues that arise in a variety of business contexts. This concentration offers interdisciplinary courses that focus on specific areas of business law, such as international business law, corporate and securities law, and intellectual property law. Students may choose to focus on one area or take courses in all three areas, allowing them to tailor their course of study to their academic and professional interests.

The Concentration in Human Rights and Comparative Constitutional Law is a flexible program that provides students with a foreign law degree with the opportunity to focus on a particular area of study in one of the leading universities in the U.S. for taking courses in a variety of areas. Students take both basic and advanced courses in order to gain a broad understanding of the legal issues that arise in a variety of business contexts. This concentration offers interdisciplinary courses that focus on specific areas of business law, such as international business law, corporate and securities law, and intellectual property law. Students may choose to focus on one area or take courses in all three areas, allowing them to tailor their course of study to their academic and professional interests.

Texas Law is the #14 law school in the U.S., according to U.S. News & World Report, and as it has great outdoor activities, such as hiking and biking on the urban trails. From lively performances at the ZACH Theatre or Barton Springs for a quick dip in spectacular surroundings. From lively performances at the ACL Live Theatre or the Long Center for the Performing Arts, to the Lady Bird Lake trail, students have a wide range of options to choose from. Austin is home to many art galleries and museums, including the Blanton Museum of Art, the Heard Museum, and the Austin Art Museum. Austin is also known for its food scene, with more than 400 live music venues. Whether it’s Tex-Mex or fine dining, Austin does not disappoint. Whether it’s the ACL Live Music Festival, SXSW, or the Austin Film Festival, Austin is the perfect destination for students looking to explore the intersections between natural resources law, international law, and environmental law. This concentration provides students with a comprehensive understanding of the legal, political, and social perspectives that shape human rights practices. The U.S. Law Concentration is in cooperation with the University’s Center for American and International Law (CIAL) and the University of Texas School of Law (UTSOL). UTSOL’s premier center for the study of Latin American and Caribbean law, CIAL is an interdisciplinary institute with a strong foundation in Latin American and international law. The concentration offers interdisciplinary courses that focus on specific areas of Latin American and international law, such as human rights and constitutional law. Students may choose to focus on one area or take courses in all three areas, allowing them to tailor their course of study to their academic and professional interests.

Texas Law has 16 clinics, 12 program centers, 11 journals, and 40 student organizations.

We offer extensive clinical education opportunities, with 16 clinics covering a range of legal issues. Texas Law is home to one of the nation’s leading centers and programs in energy law. The University of Texas School of Law is home to one of the nation’s leading centers and programs in energy law. The School’s Bernard and Audre Rapoport Center for Human Rights and Justice serves as a focal point at the University for critical, interdisciplinary analysis and study of human rights and social justice. Each student concentration is offered in cooperation with the Law School’s Bernard and Audre Rapoport Center for Human Rights and Justice, in cooperation with the University’s Teresa Lozano Long Institute of Latin American Studies from LLILAS. The Concentration in U.S. Law for Foreign Lawyers is a flexible program that provides students with a foreign law degree with the opportunity to focus on a particular area of study in one of the leading universities in the U.S. for taking courses in a variety of areas. Students take both basic and advanced courses in order to gain a broad understanding of the legal issues that arise in a variety of business contexts. This concentration offers interdisciplinary courses that focus on specific areas of business law, such as international business law, corporate and securities law, and intellectual property law. Students may choose to focus on one area or take courses in all three areas, allowing them to tailor their course of study to their academic and professional interests.

The Concentration in Latin American and International Law is a flexible program that provides students with a foreign law degree with the opportunity to focus on a particular area of study in one of the leading universities in the U.S. for taking courses in a variety of areas. Students take both basic and advanced courses in order to gain a broad understanding of the legal issues that arise in a variety of business contexts. This concentration offers interdisciplinary courses that focus on specific areas of business law, such as international business law, corporate and securities law, and intellectual property law. Students may choose to focus on one area or take courses in all three areas, allowing them to tailor their course of study to their academic and professional interests.

The Concentration in Human Rights and Comparative Constitutional Law is a flexible program that provides students with a foreign law degree with the opportunity to focus on a particular area of study in one of the leading universities in the U.S. for taking courses in a variety of areas. Students take both basic and advanced courses in order to gain a broad understanding of the legal issues that arise in a variety of business contexts. This concentration offers interdisciplinary courses that focus on specific areas of business law, such as international business law, corporate and securities law, and intellectual property law. Students may choose to focus on one area or take courses in all three areas, allowing them to tailor their course of study to their academic and professional interests.
Global Energy, International Arbitration, and Environmental Law

This concentration, in cooperation with the University’s internationally acclaimed Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs, provides a comprehensive understanding of the transnational legal environment in the Americas. This program is flexible, allowing students to focus on any area or a combination of areas in courses, and students are encouraged to consider an interdisciplinary approach.

Human Rights and Comparative Constitutional Law

This cutting-edge concentration provides students with a robust, critical, and comparative foundation in both human rights and constitutional law. It offers students a comprehensive understanding of contemporary human rights practices, including laws of constitutional law in both domestic and international settings. This concentration is offered in cooperation with the Law School’s Bernard and Audre Rapoport Center for Human Rights and Justice, which serves as a focal point at the School’s Bernard and Audre Rapoport Center for Human Rights Law Society to the Texas Business Law Society and 10 specialty journals that support their varied interests. The LL.M. Bar Strategy Class gives LL.M. students an early opportunity to explore the intersections between natural resources law, in both domestic and international settings. The Business Law Concentration provides LL.M. students with a strong foundation in the breadth of legal issues facing business organizations today. This concentration offers students the opportunity to take both basic and advanced courses in both Texas law’s expertise in corporate and business law. Sample course offerings include International Commercial Arbitration, International Projects Transactions, Negotiation, International Business Transactions, and International and Foreign State Arbitration.

Energy and Environmental Law

Energy and Environmental Law is a flexible program that provides students with a foreign law degree with the opportunity to focus on a particular area of study to gain a foundational understanding of U.S. law by taking courses in a variety of areas. Students take both basic and advanced courses. This concentration works well with students from non-common law background who intend to take either the Texas or New York Bar as it provides for the needed flexibility to enroll in both in courses required by each bar and in courses that fit students’ academic and professional interests.

Latin American and International Law

The Concentration in Latin American and International Law is offered in cooperation with the University of Texas South American Law Institute (LUIJS) and the country’s premier center for the study of Latin America, and the Texas School for Translators. This program provides students with an increased understanding of the transnational legal environment in the Americas. This program is flexible, allowing students to focus on any area or a combination of areas in courses, and students are encouraged to consider an interdisciplinary approach.

Business Law

The Business Law Concentration provides LL.M. students with a strong foundation in the breadth of legal issues facing business organizations today. This concentration offers students the opportunity to take both basic and advanced courses in both Texas law’s expertise in corporate and business law. Sample course offerings include International Commercial Arbitration, International Projects Transactions, Negotiation, International Business Transactions, and International and Foreign State Arbitration.

Texas Law has 16 clinics, 12 program centers, 11 journals, and 40 student organizations.

We offer extensive clinical education opportunities, with 16 clinics covering a range of legal issues. These exciting and challenging pro bono student jobs give students real-world experience working with clients while still in school. Texas Law has 16 clinics, 12 program centers, and 11 journals that support their varied interests. The LL.M. Bar Strategy Class gives LL.M. students an early opportunity to start preparing for the bar. This Law School has been named by The Texas Law Review and 10 specialty journals that greatly in legal, political, and social perspectives.

Student organizations at Texas Law run the gamut of interests, from the Environmental Law Society to our groundbreaking Kay B. and Howard L. McFarland Center for Human Rights & Justice, our students are accommodating, network that support their varied interests. Our Bar Strategy Success Class gives LL.M. Students an early opportunity to start preparing for the bar. This Law School has been named by The Texas Law Review and 10 specialty journals that greatly in legal, political, and social perspectives. Student organizations at Texas Law run the gamut of interests, from the Environmental Law Society to our groundbreaking Kay B. and Howard L. McFarland Center for Human Rights & Justice, our students are accommodating, network that support their varied interests. Our Bar Strategy Success Class gives LL.M. Students an early opportunity to start preparing for the bar. This Law School has been named by The Texas Law Review and 10 specialty journals that greatly in legal, political, and social perspectives. Student organizations at Texas Law run the gamut of interests, from the Environmental Law Society to our groundbreaking Kay B. and Howard L. McFarland Center for Human Rights & Justice, our students are accommodating, network that support their varied interests. Our Bar Strategy Success Class gives LL.M. Students an early opportunity to start preparing for the bar. This Law School has been named by The Texas Law Review and 10 specialty journals that greatly in legal, political, and social perspectives.

Student organizations at Texas Law run the gamut of interests, from the Environmental Law Society to our groundbreaking Kay B. and Howard L. McFarland Center for Human Rights & Justice, our students are accommodating, network that support their varied interests. Our Bar Strategy Success Class gives LL.M. Students an early opportunity to start preparing for the bar. This Law School has been named by The Texas Law Review and 10 specialty journals that greatly in legal, political, and social perspectives. Student organizations at Texas Law run the gamut of interests, from the Environmental Law Society to our groundbreaking Kay B. and Howard L. McFarland Center for Human Rights & Justice, our students are accommodating, network that support their varied interests. Our Bar Strategy Success Class gives LL.M. Students an early opportunity to start preparing for the bar. This Law School has been named by The Texas Law Review and 10 specialty journals that greatly in legal, political, and social perspectives. Student organizations at Texas Law run the gamut of interests, from the Environmental Law Society to our groundbreaking Kay B. and Howard L. McFarland Center for Human Rights & Justice, our students are accommodating, network that support their varied interests. Our Bar Strategy Success Class gives LL.M. Students an early opportunity to start preparing for the bar. This Law School has been named by The Texas Law Review and 10 specialty journals that greatly in legal, political, and social perspectives.

Student organizations at Texas Law run the gamut of interests, from the Environmental Law Society to our groundbreaking Kay B. and Howard L. McFarland Center for Human Rights & Justice, our students are accommodating, network that support their varied interests. Our Bar Strategy Success Class gives LL.M. Students an early opportunity to start preparing for the bar. This Law School has been named by The Texas Law Review and 10 specialty journals that greatly in legal, political, and social perspectives. Student organizations at Texas Law run the gamut of interests, from the Environmental Law Society to our groundbreaking Kay B. and Howard L. McFarland Center for Human Rights & Justice, our students are accommodating, network that support their varied interests. Our Bar Strategy Success Class gives LL.M. Students an early opportunity to start preparing for the bar. This Law School has been named by The Texas Law Review and 10 specialty journals that greatly in legal, political, and social perspectives. Student organizations at Texas Law run the gamut of interests, from the Environmental Law Society to our groundbreaking Kay B. and Howard L. McFarland Center for Human Rights & Justice, our students are accommodating, network that support their varied interests. Our Bar Strategy Success Class gives LL.M. Students an early opportunity to start preparing for the bar. This Law School has been named by The Texas Law Review and 10 specialty journals that greatly in legal, political, and social perspectives. Student organizations at Texas Law run the gamut of interests, from the Environmental Law Society to our groundbreaking Kay B. and Howard L. McFarland Center for Human Rights & Justice, our students are accommodating, network that support their varied interests. Our Bar Strategy Success Class gives LL.M. Students an early opportunity to start preparing for the bar. This Law School has been named by The Texas Law Review and 10 specialty journals that greatly in legal, political, and social perspectives. Student organizations at Texas Law run the gamut of interests, from the Environmental Law Society to our groundbreaking Kay B. and Howard L. McFarland Center for Human Rights & Justice, our students are accommodating, network that support their varied interests. Our Bar Strategy Success Class gives LL.M. Students an early opportunity to start preparing for the bar. This Law School has been named by The Texas Law Review and 10 specialty journals that greatly in legal, political, and social perspectives. Student organizations at Texas Law run the gamut of interests, from the Environmental Law Society to our groundbreaking Kay B. and Howard L. McFarland Center for Human Rights & Justice, our students are accommodating, network that support their varied interests. Our Bar Strategy Success Class gives LL.M. Students an early opportunity to start preparing for the bar. This Law School has been named by The Texas Law Review and 10 specialty journals that greatly in legal, political, and social perspectives. Student organizations at Texas Law run the gamut of interests, from the Environmental Law Society to our groundbreaking Kay B. and Howard L. McFarland Center for Human Rights & Justice, our students are accommodating, network that support their varied interests. Our Bar Strategy Success Class gives LL.M. Students an early opportunity to start preparing for the bar. This Law School has been named by The Texas Law Review and 10 specialty journals that greatly in legal, political, and social perspectives.
MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN OF GRADUATE AND INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS

I believe in this program! Not only is it my privilege to direct the program, I am also proud to be a graduate (LL.M. ’07). This program opened a world of opportunities for me, and I am committed to doing the same for our students.

Let me tell you why I believe that Texas Law’s LL.M. program is such a wonderful place to take the next step toward achieving your dreams. First of all, Texas Law is one of the most highly ranked law schools in the United States (#14 in the US), while having one of the lowest tuitions for the value (#1 most affordable LL.M. program in a top 14 law school).

The law school is housed on and part of the greater University of Texas at Austin Campus. Law students are able to be a part of this diverse and international community and all that has to offer—famous thinkers, artists and cultural programming, and NCAA sports. Students love living in Austin, one of the most rapidly growing cities in America for good reason. Austin is the live music capital of the world, has a quickly expanding tech industry, and is a food-lover’s paradise. (See feature about Austin that students are surprised about: how naturally beautiful Austin and its surroundings are. We are surrounded by rolling green hills, blue, green, and natural springs. All sorts of gorgeous outdoor adventures await those who like to be outside—hiking, jogging, swimming in a clear blue watering hole, or simply listening to some live music on one of many warm sunny days. We are a few hours north of the ocean, and a pleasant drive west to hiking in mountains springing up from the desert.

Not only do we offer a highly renowned program in a cool city, we care deeply about the happiness and success of our students. The Graduate and International Programs team is committed to helping our students design a program that is made with the person in mind. We also know that many students will take advantage of the new Texas rules making it possible for some foreign LL.M. students to take the Texas Bar Exam. We have extensive programs designed to help our students pass the Texas Bar Exam or the bar of their choice. We ensure that our LL.M. Students have one of the most exciting, successful years of their lives by making sure that our students are well supported and have as many opportunities facilitated by our team which endeavors to help our students experience all that Austin has to offer. We would love to welcome you “home”!

Yours sincerely,
Laura Fielder
Lauren Fielder, LL.M., J.D.
Dean of Graduate and International Programs