I. Introduction
The University of Texas at Austin brand is known throughout the world. But a brand is more than a logo, a tagline or a website. It’s also about personal experiences and interactions. Our brand is a combination of what people see, feel, hear and think about The University of Texas at Austin when they hear our stories or see the marks that represent UT Austin.

Our brand is built upon a strong history of leadership in combining public access to excellence at undergraduate and graduate levels of education and across an unmatched breadth in faculty, programs and research.

Every time we engage and interact, we’re influencing people’s perception of the UT brand. That’s why consistency is key. The experience from one touch point to another should feel reassuring and familiar. It is important that we speak with a unified vision and voice to continue to build upon the strength of the UT brand.
Identity Foundations
Primary Signature Overview

1) The University of Texas at Austin signature is the primary means by which we are recognized and should appear on all university communications. The signature has been specially drawn and spaced; do not redraw, change, stack or reposition it.

2) The signature may be used as instructed by the guidelines in all print and digital uses without additional approval. Any proposed use of the signature on merchandise (such as but not limited to T-shirts, mugs, pens, hats) must have prior written approval from the Office of Brand, Trademarks and Licensing and be produced under a licensing agreement by an approved vendor.
Identity Foundations
Primary Signature Anatomy

1) The university Primary Signature is composed of three parts: (1) the shield; (2) “Texas” and (3) the official university name.

2) When using the Primary Signature, it must be represented exactly as shown below. If any of these three parts are not present, the Primary Signature is incomplete.

3) The shield in our Primary Signature is an extraction from the university seal. The 18 leaves of the olive and oak represent the 18 colleges and schools of the university. The lines in the book correspond to the opening line of our school spirit song, “The Eyes of Texas.”
Clear Space and Minimum Size

1) To maintain our brand’s integrity, clarity and consistency, the size and space left around the signature must always be maintained across all forms of communication.

2) Use the shield in the signature that you are working with to determine the space around the signature, also called the ‘clear space’ or ‘exclusion zone.’ At the top and bottom of the signature, there should be no words or images placed in the area equal to or greater than the height of the shield. To the left and right sides of the signature, there should be no words or images placed in the area equal to or greater than the width of the shield.

3) Minimum size requirements for the reproduction of our signature helps maintain brand presence and legibility. The height of the shield should be 0.375” or larger for print, and 50 px or greater for the web. These rules will apply to all signature types.
I. Introduction

Improper Uses

Do not change the footprint of the signature or alter the type in any way.

Do not use the shield in isolation.

Do not use the word TEXAS in isolation.

Do not change the typeface.

Do not change the color.

Do not place the signature on inappropriate colors.

Do not apply special effects.

Do not distort the signature.

Do not use tints of Pantone 159.

Do not apply gradients.

Do not outline the signature.

Do not rotate the signature.
Primary Color Palette

1) Color is an important tool for our brand system. Using color in a consistent way reinforces our brand and fosters trust and recognition. Burnt orange and white are the official colors and the primary palette we use to represent The University of Texas at Austin.

The distinctive burnt orange color plays a major role in establishing our identity and should be implemented consistently in all web applications and print communications such as business cards, letterhead and presentations, as well as a broad range of marketing materials.

2) Our primary color is burnt orange Pantone 159. Find the CMYK, RGB and HEX values in the chart below.

3) Our secondary color is gray Pantone 432. Find its corresponding CMYK, RGB and HEX values in the chart below.

Pantone 432
CMYK: 65, 43, 26, 78
RGB: 51, 63, 72

One-Color Reproduction

1) When reproduced in color, the signature should appear in burnt orange, black or all white for reverses on dark backgrounds.

2) Black, white and gray (a percentage of black or Pantone 432) are the only alternate colors that may be used when the burnt orange cannot be used.

3) The signature can be reversed out (white) when the background is burnt orange, black or gray.

I. Introduction

Typography

1) The university’s typographic identity is visible across many applications, including print, electronic and environmental displays. The following type selections have been made to best represent the voice of the university and to maintain a consistent tone throughout various university communications.

2) Our typeface, GT Sectra, is a contemporary serif typeface combining the calligraphy of the broad nib pen with the sharpness of the scalpel knife.

3) Our brand uses GT Sectra Regular and GT Sectra Regular Italic.

Our tagline, “What starts here changes the world,” uses the typeface Benton Sans Bold.

University Signature Types

An Overview

1) This chart shows the various signature types available for use at the university level. Each signature type (Primary, Formal, Informal and Tagline) has a horizontal and a stacked version.

2) One-color Pantone versions of all university-level signatures are available for use. Artwork files are available for Pantone 159 (orange) and Pantone 432 (gray). The two-color version is preferred, and one-color should only be used for one-color spot color printing when two-color is not an option.

University Seal and Longhorn Silhouette

1) The University of Texas at Austin seal is an important element in our visual identity. Its use is reserved for official communications from the Office of the President as well as business cards and stationery for all schools and units and official university documents, certificates, awards and plaques. The seal may not be used on any other materials, banners and signs, etc. without prior written approval from the Office of Brand, Trademarks and Licensing.

The seal should only appear in burnt orange, black or white. Exceptions to this may include a foil stamp for official documents. For inquiries on other exceptions, please contact Marketing and Creative Services.

2) The Longhorn Silhouette represents the spirit of the university and is one of the most widely recognized university marks in the world. The Office of Brand, Trademarks and Licensing must grant prior written approval for all uses of the Longhorn Silhouette.
IV. School of Law Configurations
School of Law Configurations

Introduction

1) In addition to the School of Law signature, the University signature should appear conspicuously on all School of Law communications to show the relationship between them.

2) Signatures for the School of Law should follow a standardized and consistent visual hierarchy. These signatures support The University of Texas at Austin’s brand while providing a clear and strong unit or group identifier.

3) There are five types of signatures shown below: Primary, Branded, Informal Branded A, Informal Branded B and Formal. The following pages will explain each version in greater detail and provide guidelines for their usage.

Signatures are shown at reduced size here for demonstrative purposes only. When using signature artwork, it must adhere to the minimum size requirements.

2) The Branded Signature is made up of five parts: the shield; “Texas”; the school's shorthand name; the official university name; and the official school name.

3) Do not manually type the Branded School Signature. Always use the artwork files that are provided.

Branded Signatures are reserved for the school level, however, a department or program may use the Branded Signature with prior approval from the school's communications director or from Marketing and Creative Services. The department or program name will need to meet specific criteria in order to be approved for the Branded Signature use.
School of Law Configurations: School-level
Informal Branded Signature: Type A

1) The example here shows how the Informal Branded Signatures Type A are used.

2) The Informal Branded Signature Type A is essentially the branded signature separated into two elements: (A1) the shield with “Texas” and the school’s shorthand name, and (A2) the official university name and the official school name. These elements are separated in the Informal Branded signature to give a greater visual presence to the school’s shorthand name.

3) When using the Informal Branded Signature Type A, both elements (A1 and A2) must be present on the piece. The school’s shorthand name element (A1) must be more prominent than the official school name element (A2).

4) Do not manually type the Informal Branded Signature A. Always use the artwork files that are provided.
1) Shown here are clear space requirements as well as minimum size requirements and size relationship between the two elements of the Informal Branded Signature Type A.

VI. Social Media
Social Media
An Overview

1) The following pages include standards for social media that can help ensure a strong and consistent social media presence.

2) More information about social media goals and standards is available from University Communications. If you have questions about UT's social media brand guidelines, contact University Communications at utsocial@utexas.edu.
Social Media
Avatars: Overview

1) A social media avatar is a personalized graphical illustration or image that represents a user.

2) There are three types of avatars that can be used for social media outlets.

3) Shield Avatar. The white shield on orange background is reserved for the university’s social media presence.

4) Image Avatar. Images may be used by the university, colleges, departments and offices. The imagery should be relevant to the entity.

5) Lockup Avatar. Colleges and Departments may use signature lockups for their avatars. Colleges may use the stacked primary signature, or a customized version of the branded lockup, as shown below. The orange background is reserved for college level.

   Departments and Programs may use a version of the branded lockup as shown below, only if the name works within the character space.

   The customized Lockup Avatars should only be used for application in social media.
Social Media

Avatars: University level

1) Shield Avatar: The white shield on an orange background may be used for the university’s avatar. This color combo is strictly reserved for the University level.

2) Image Avatar: An image that identifies the university may be used as an avatar (i.e. an architectural detail of the University Seal).
Social Media
Avatars: School of Law

1) A college level may use an Image or a Lockup for its avatar.

2) Image Avatar: An image that identifies the college may be used (i.e. an image of a college building on campus).

3) Lockup Avatar: A college may use the stacked primary signature, or a customized version of their branded lockup, as shown below. If using this version, the lockup must always be knocked out of an orange background.

The lockups may not display well at small sizes. For this reason, it may be best to use an image that embodies the college.
Social Media
Avatars: Department/Program level

1) A Department or Program may use an image or a lockup for its avatar.

2) Image Avatar: An image that identifies the department or college may be used.

3) Lockup Avatar: A Department or Program may use the university’s primary stacked lockup, or a customized version of their branded lockup if its name works within the character space, as shown below. If using this option, the lockup must always be orange on a white background.

The lockups may not display well at small sizes. For this reason, it may be best to use an image that embodies the Department or Program.
VII. Business Cards and Letterhead
University Communications' has provided templates for letterhead and business cards that can be found on brand.utexas.edu. If you would like to create a custom letterhead or business card, please submit your request to Christopher Roberts at roberts@law.utexas.edu.
University Communications is responsible for managing The University of Texas at Austin brand. It plays a coordinating role among the administration and academic offices and is the main resource for all issues relating to the university’s institutional brand.

It is suggested that each administrative office appoint an identity coordinator to guide identity use and ensure that all standards in the identity guidelines are maintained. Coordinators are expected to monitor performance of the identity within their offices and to ensure consistency.
